EDITOR'S LETTER

The Jamboree '92 in southern California was very successful. There were over 2000 persons there and I was delighted with all the persons that came by the table asking about Cuba's records. There are a lot of Americans with a little bit of Cuban in them. There are also a lot of Cubans, all over the U.S. now, trying to piece together their past heritage. We welcome their curiosity and interest.

We have a few new members in the society and a lot of brochures being given to interested people who had a friend at the conference and remembered they were from Cuba.

April 29th to May 2nd will be the time for the 1992 NGS Conference in the States. The theme is A New Voyage of Discovery, celebrating the discovery of America. It will take place in Jacksonville, Florida (not Tallahassee, as was mentioned before). CGS will have an exhibition table during the conference and we look forward to meeting new and old members there.

If you are interested in attending this 4 day conference you can write to:

National Genealogical Society
4527 17th Street North
Arlington, VA 22207-2399

They will send you a program with all the necessary information.

We hope to see many of you there. There will be quite a few lectures about the colonial period in the Americas — very worthwhile for the genealogist.

The First Three Towns of Las Villas

Santísima Trinidad

The city of Trinidad was founded by Diego Velázquez, in the region called Guamuhaya. Some historians affirm that it was founded on the 4th of January of 1514, and it is certain that it was founded before the city of Sancti Spiritus. Velazquez was driven there by the rumors that there were gold mines in the region.

The founding of the town was attended by Narváez, Grijalba and Father Las Casas who had been waiting for Velázquez in Jagua, but were invited to go to Trinidad by Velazquez, since he had been well received by the indians of the area.

Many of the people that had come with Velazquez decided to stay there and establish the town. Among the men that stayed were Pedro de Alvarado, Gonzalo de Alvarado, Gómez de Alvarado, Jorge de Alvarado, Juan de Alvarado, Alonso de Avila, Juan de Escalante, Pedro Sánchez Farfán, Gonzalo Mejía, Cristóbal de Olid, Gaspar Sánchez, Diego de Pineda, Alonso Rodríguez, Bartolomé García and a musician by the name of Ortiz.

The town of Trinidad was declared a Villa at the time of the founding; it became a Ciudad before 1585 and it received a coat of arms in 1822.

In the year 1518 Cortes came to Trinidad and recruited most of men to go with him to Mexico. This left Trinidad almost uninhabited for many years. As described in 1534 by Manuel de Rojas the few people left in Trinidad had moved to Sancti Spiritus and that it might be a good idea to make one town of the two.

The modern Park Martí was the area where the church, the city building and other official buildings were built around. The streets of the city started from this park also.

The first mass was given by Father Las Casas under the shade of a jigüey tree located at the corner of today's streets Jigüey and Boca. This was the place where the first city government was organized and Francisco Verdugo was named first Mayor.

The first church built in Trinidad was called Ermita de la Santa Cruz de La Piedad, named after a cross that a priest named Nazario had made and placed over a rock. The cross came to be known as the cross of mercy by the faithful. When the church was built, it was given the name of the cross.

This original church was destroyed by fire, but it was reconstructed in a bigger size by Manuel Hernández de Rivera, a catholic priest.

The city of Trinidad was victim to a terrible hurricane in 1527 that destroyed all that was standing. Many forests were ruined, the trees all fell down, and the food stuff was destroyed.

Other hurricanes that caused a lost of damage were in the years 1825, 1837, 1846, 1865, 1876, 1882, 1888, 1894, 1910 and 1926. The hurricanes were the worst enemies for the development of the province of Las Villas

By the year 1600 Trinidad had 150 habitants, which was comparable to other cities like Puerto Principe with 30, Guanabacoa with 160, Baracoa with 30, Santiago de Cuba with 250 and Bayamo with 1500. Even La Habana only had 3,000 habitants at the time.

In 1728 a fire destroyed the archives that held the official documents since the foundation of the town. In 1793 there was a terrible fire in the town that destroyed 180 houses. In 1798 the law was passed to prohibit the building of houses with roofs made of palm tree leaves, in order to be more protected from fires.

Pirates also contributed to the problems of Trinidad. Charles Gant, the english pirate, was in the vicinity of Trinidad in 1702. Fortunately the Governor of Cuba sent soldier to fight Gant and he was fought off the town, but not before causing much damage.

The first mention of a main Parish is found on the records of the archive in 1611, which means there were other small churches in addition to the main parish.

The main Parish of the Santtsima Trinidad was built and replaced, without leaving written records for history, until 1702 where we find that it was plundered by the english pirate Charles Gant. We also know that up until 1812 it was a great building measuring 64 yards in lenght and 15 in width. It was build of wood, except for the sacristy, which was built of bricks, but the storm of 1812 destroyed most of it and two years latter it was demolished.

Since that time the monastery of Francisco of Asis was used as a Parish for almost 80 years. This monastery was established in the 16th century.

By the year 1841 the church of La Piedad was in disrepair and the citizens wanted to have it rebuilt, they also wanted to have a priest that would take care of it, since they were sharing a priest with Sancti Spiritus and Remedios. In April 11, 1842 the corner stone of the new church building was placed on a land donated by José Ignacio de Zayas.

The new church had a short life, since in 1859 in was noted that the building had deteriorated and in 1860 it was finally demolished.

In 1867 the new parish building was started. At that time Francisco Leza y Cenzani was the parish priest and he donated great amounts of money to its construction, until 1883 when he died and the constructions was halted. In 1890 the new parish priest Manuel González Cuevo started to fight for its construction. The new parish was dedicated by the bishop of La Habana, Manuel Santander y Frutos, on the 15th of February, 1892.

Trinidad has a parochial archive, which has the first entry dated April 14, 1585, in the book called El Libro Viejo (The Old Book). The entries are not many, since the number of inhabitants in 1585 was small. The original books were destroyed somehow, but the documents of Sancti Spiritus shed some light on the history of Trinidad.

The hills of Trinidad were always used for growing coffee. There were 9 coffee plantations in 1861.

The industry of ceramics was strong in Trinidad because of the excellent quality of the clay and the sand in the region.

Other churches of Trinidad:

The Ermita de la Popa was a church built in the early 1700's. The first mention in documents about this church dates January 23, 1740. This document also states that its original name was the Ermita de la Caridad. There is a painting of the church dated 1766, that depicts the faith the mariner had in the virgin honored in this church. The varon Humboldh tells us that the church was destroyed by a storm in 1812, and was rebuilt in a bigger size.

The Ermita de Santa Ana was founded in 1719 with a chaplainship granted by Juan Vázquez in honor of his wife. It was rebuilt in 1800 after being destroyed.

Sancti Spiritus

Soon after Velázquez founded Trinidad, the town of Sancti Spiritus was founded by the shores of the river Tuinicú on March 1514. In 1520 the town was relocated to the shores of the river Yayabo. The original town was founded about one or two league east of the new town. According to traditions the move was made because of an infestation of ants that destroyed the fields, and caused the death of children.

The founders of Sancti Spíritus were Francisco Fernández de Córdoba, Vasco Porcallo de Figueroa, Juan Velázquez de León, Alonso Fernández Portocarrero, Gonzalo de Sandoval, Rodrigo Rangel, Juan Sedeño, Hernán López. Sancti Spíritus was given the title of Villa from its founding, and later, by 1536 it had been named a Ciudad.

Sancti Spíritus grew as fast a Trinidad because of its central location and good roads to other towns.

In 1518 Cortes came to recruit men to go with him to Mexico and Sancti Spíritus lost most of its people. The families of Trinidad, which had been recruited also, moved to Sancti Spíritus, but still, in 1534 there were only 26 people and only 3 indians living in Sancti Spíritus.

Pirates were always causing problems for Sancti Spíritus. One the worst cases was during the Christmas of 1665, when the pirates ransacked the town, setting fire on some houses and stealing the golden roster (Gallo de oro) that Father Pedro Luis Pérez de Corcho had placed in the altar of the parish church in 1612.

The first church built in Sancti Spíritus was on the hill called to this day Loma de la Iglesia (Hill of the Church). It was a primitive building of wood planks and a roof of palm leaves. The congregation was small, but its territorial jurisdiction was immense. It went west to La Habana, south to Trinidad, north to the sea, since Remedios was not a parish yet, and east to Puerto Principe. This jurisdiction kept decreasing as the new parishes were formed.

The main church in Sancti Spíritus was rebuilt in 1680 with bricks and tiles. The first register of parish register were destroyed somehow and the first entry that has survived dates from 1607.

Other church that were constructed in this city were the church of Santo Cristo de Vera-Cruz, built in 1699. The convent of San Francisco, built in 1716. The church of Nuestra Señora de la Caridad built in 1717. This church became an auxiliary parish in 1755. The church of Santa Ana was built in 1721. The hospice of Jesus Nazareno was rebuilt in 1831, it had been in existence already in 1750.

In 1850 Sancti Spiritus suffered an epidemic of cholera which killed a lot of people. In 1880 there were other epidemic that took their toll in the population.

The region of Sancti Spiritus was a good place for raising live stock. Vasco Porcallo de Figueroa was the first magnate in the industry of live stock. In 1845 there were 85,490 bulls and cows and 4,280 oxen. This industry was completely destroyed during the war of independence. But it was rebuilt again by the indestructible people of Sancti Spiritus.

San Juan de los Remedios

The origins of this town are found in Carahate, an indian village located on an islet known today by the name of "Pueblo Viejo", but it was called Cayo de Tesico at the time of the conquest.

Documents by historian Juan López de Velasco date the founding of this town on May 3, 1514. It was called Santa Cruz de la Sabana, and it was a dependency of Sancti Spiritus and it did not have a government of its own. The reason for this was that Vasco Porcallo de Figueroa wanted to have Remedios as a private property in his vast land holdings in the area and to name it a town would have foiled its purpose.

Soon after the town was founded it had to be moved inland looking drinking water and dryer grounds to cultivate. It was reestablished by the hills of Sabana.

The exact time of the relocation can not be proven, but it had to have occurred between 1578 and 1615. In 1578 the town was attacked by the french pirates and it was destroyed. According to historians a more sure time for the relocation would be 1594 to 1604. By 1615 an entry of the town-hall calls the town San Juan de los Remedios and it is located in the new place. Another source that confirms the change of name is when Governor Carreño mentions the town by the name of Sabana in 1578, but in 1615 Martínez Fortún calls the town San Juan de Los Remedios, who explains that it was named after San Juan because it was relocated on June 24th, but mention not the year.

The government of the town was formed between 1570, and before 1578 according to letters written by Bishop Castillo and Governor Carreño, while reporting to the King about the region.

Vasco Porcallo de Figueroa lived in Sabana part of the years because of the land holdings that he had there. Bishop Diego Sarmiento reported to the King that Porcallo owned the whole town of Sabana with twenty houses inhabited by ten spaniards, other ten spaniards as his personal servants, eighty indians and 120 negro slaves.

Sarmientos gave permission to Porcallo to build a church and a hospital. They already had a small building used for worship that was made a planks and palm leaves. This church built by Porcallo was destroyed by the pirates in 1578.

In 1611 Fray Alonso Enríquez de Armendáriz wrote to the king of Spain that the parish of Remedios was the sixth oldest in Cuba, but it had been rebuilt after the pirates had destroyed in 1578.

After the relocation of the town, a church was built that serve the town until 1692, when it was necessary to rebuild it, has it is mentioned by Bishop Bartolomé del Castillo two years later in Santo Domingo.

The town of Sabana was attacked by the pirates in 1564 and it 1578 with such violence that the people of the town wanted to relocate again inland to be less vulnerable from the attacks. Not all the neighbors agreed on the move, and the discussion lasted a few years. This conflict came to a head in 1688 when the town hall decided to move the town of Remedios to a place called Anton Díaz. The new town was to be called Gloriosa Santa Clara. When the move was to take place only 200 persons agreed and moved, the rest of the people, about 400 of them, stayed in Remedios. This rebellious stance was accepted by the Captain General Severino de Manzaneda, who acknowledged the two town and asked them to keep separate governments in 1690. He even prohibited the people of Remedios to move anywhere else.

But for apparently no reason Manzaneda changed his mind and sent his councilor, Francisco Manuel de Roa, to reverse the decree and on Sep 13, 1690 ordered the people of Remedios to move to Santa Clara or they would be taken prisoners and sent to Florida's prisons.

Bishop Compostela was not in agreement with this order and tried to convince Roa that he was acting beyond his authority. When the people did not obeying Roa's order, he sent 4 of his men to burn and ransack the town on September 12, 1691.

At this point the people of Remedios had the help of Jacindo de Rojas, who was a respectable member of the society and who felt the injustice that was being done to this people had to stop. He convinced the Captain General to let the church keep the priest and continue with the services, and to let the people live in Remedios until the Consejo de Indias decided what was to be done. Bishop Castillo went to Spain to try to talk to someone in the Consejo de Indias about the problem, but to no avail. At his return the people of Remedios decided to appeal to the courts of Santo Domingo for help, since a judge of that court was visiting Cuba and was friend of Bishop Castillo. On November 4, 1694 the court of Santo Domingo the people of Remedios own the battle to stay in their town and it continued to prosper.

In 1734 the church was made wider and it was finished in 1736. The cemetery was also rebuilt and it was in use until 1814.

Other churches of Remedios are the church of La Virgen del Buen Viaje, for which there is no date of origin, but historians agree that it was built in mid 18th century. It was rebuilt in 1818, and it became a parish in 1823. A fire destroyed the church in 1862 and it was reconstructed by December of 1867.

The church of Santo Cristo which was built in 1700 with the donations of Captain Juan Jiménez, from Tenerife, Canary Islands and his wife Beatriz de Rojas, born in Remedios. The building was in such disrepair by 1849 that it stopped being used for worship and it was demolished in 1882. It stood where the Park of Independence is now located.

The church of San Salvador de Horta was built in 1802, but by 1922 it had been demolished and its ornaments moved to Zulueta. It was located where the Park San Salvador is now.

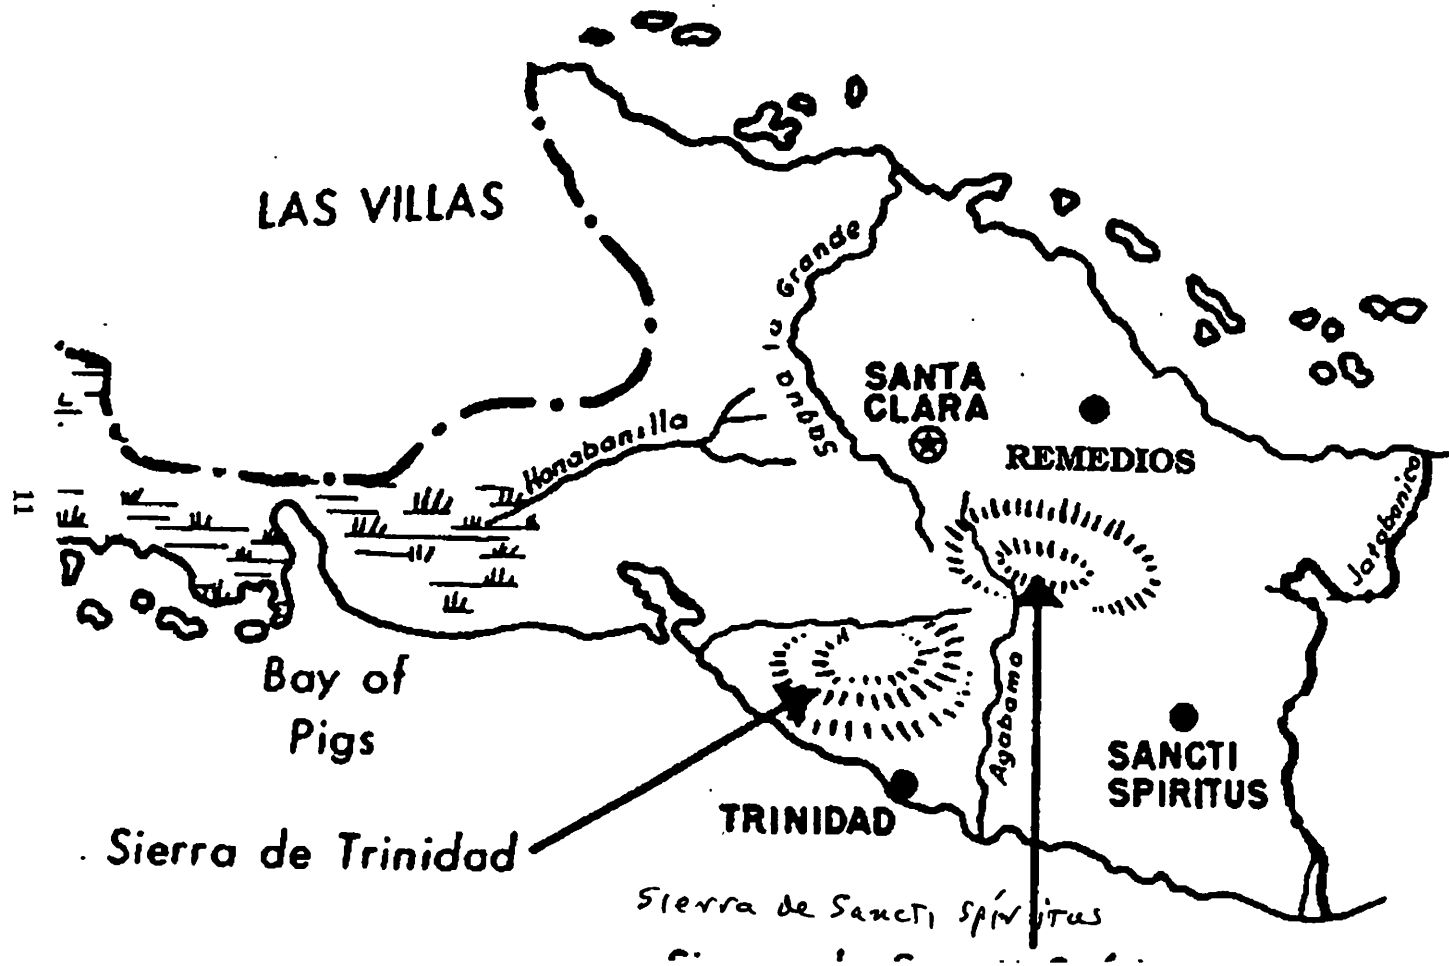

Remedios received the title of Villa on January 1, 1689 and of Ciudad on January 14, 1843.

The population of Remedios suffered an epidemic of yellow fever during 1709 that killed a lot of the foreigners. In 1794 the same disease had a toll of 600 victims. Trinidad cut communications with Remedios in 1833 in order to stop the epidemic of cholera from coming in. This epidemic came to Remedios in 1850 with more violence. Another disastrous epidemic was the Typhoid fever of 1897 when 1,572 persons died.

Remedios was a big center of live stock industries which attracted the pirates with its smells from the slaughter house going to shore. In 1845 there were 21,228 bull and cows and 2,400 oxen.

In the Spanish region south of the river Ebro, and between the rivers Aguas and Moyuela, northern limits of the province of Teruel, old kingdom of Aragon, we find the village Obón, which now a days belongs to the municipality of Montalvo.

Even though the temperatures are extremely cold in that part of Zaragoza and the land is arid, in Obón there are vineyards that produce an excellent quality of wine. They produce cereals, vegetables and spices. The village has some two thousands inhabitants approximately and they pursue the beehive production of honey and wax.

XOX

In the middle of the XVIII in the ancient village of Obón already mentioned, there was the family of José Domingo Villuendas, and Maria Joaquina Casaña, with many children. One of these children pursued a career as a soldier and was sent to La Habana at the end of that century. There he established a prestigious family. This son was Don José Antonio Villuendas y Casañas, born in Obón on 10 December 1752 and baptized in the parish of the village on 12 Dec 1752 (folio 167). This document was transferred to the Cathedral of La Habana to folio 148 and 149, no. 478, book 37.

Don José Antonio, Colonel-Lieutenant of the Army and Assistant Major of the plaza in La Habana, married in that city, in the parish of Santo Angel Custodio, 13 April 1801 (folio 80, no. 259, libro 5) with María Josefa de los Dolores Calderón y Salgado. She was born in La Habana, 21 March 1774 and baptized in the Cathedral, 29 March 1774 (folio 65, no. 213, libro 7). Army in Louisiana in the Cathedral of La Habana). Felicitas María Gayarre y Cockram was the daughter of Captain Antonio Gayarre y Grampe, born in New Orleans, Assistant Major of the Army on Louisiana, and María de los Angeles Cockram y Antor, born in Pensacola, Florida.

B. Tulio Félix Villuendas y Vázquez was born in Juana Díaz, Puerto Rico, 15 Feb 1893 (Civil Register folio 158, no. 191, libro 12). He studied law in the University of La Habana (file no. 1469) and was Notary Public in Ciego de Avila, Camagüey. He married Berta Rosa Morales y Bringuier, born in Remedios, Santa Clara, whose parents were Ramón Morales y Nieblas and Lucía Bringuier y Corrales. This couple was a son: Julio Villuendas y Morales born in Ciego de Avila, 5 February 1921 (folio 548, no. 467, libro 53 in the Civil Register of Ciego de Avila).

C. Sara Manuela Villuendas y Vázquez, was born in Juana Díaz, Puerto Rico, 6 January 1896 (Civil Register folio 362, no.88, libro 15). She died single in La Habana, 1 March 1941. Her death entry is found in the parish of Sagrado Corazón de Jesús del Vedado y Carmelo (entry 1218, libro 44).

5. Enrique Villuendas y de la Torre was born in La Habana, 27 December 1874 and was baptized in the Cathedral of La Habana, 1 March 1875 (folio 77, no. 285, libro 40) This distinguished patriot studied law in the University of La Habana (file no. 14875) and died tragically in the hotel "La Suiza", Cienfuegos, 22 September 1905. He was buried in the cemetery of Cienfuegos, but 24 years later his body was moved to the Cristobal Colón cemetery in La Habana. At the age of twenty he enlisted in the revolutionary movement and became Chief of the Estado Mayor and Assistant to the Major General José Miguel Gómez, who he served in war and well as in peace. Once the War was over he had the title of Colonel of the Armed Forces and during the American occupation he was Judge in the courts of Santa Clara. In the Minutes of the Conventions for the Constitution in 1900 and 1901 we find his words of intervention on the debates (no. 3: Nov. 1900 to no. 17: 26 Jan. 1901). He was representative of Congress of Santa Clara during the period of 5,May 1902 to 19 January 1904 and 5 May 1904 to his death. This period was to have ended 2 April 1906. Many laws were passed because of his dedication to his duties and a representative of the people. He distinguished himself for his eloquence and his knowledge of politics. In his memory a street in La Habana was named after him.

PARISH REGISTER OF SAN JUAN DE LOS REMEDIOS, LAS VILLAS, CUBA

The transcriptions of the books in the parish of San Juan de los Remedios were done by Jose Antonio Mahy, an associate of Francisco Xavier de Santa Cruz, and very well known for his own accomplishments.

This transcriptions include books number One and Two. The listing has all the entries found in these books. The first book, comprising the years 1648 to 1720, was in very bad conditions and there are a lot of facts that could not be read. This book has a good number of marriages of slaves and free blacks residents of Remedios. All the entries in this book are included in this listing.

Book number Two is finished in this issue. This book comprises the years 1701 to 1751. Its condition was better and not so many facts are missing. There are no marriages of blacks in this book. They may have been kept in another book.

The information contained in the following listing has the same format as previously used. To recap: The surname and given name are found first, followed by the sex of the individual, the date of the marriage, a letter indicating whether the individual listed is the one being married (M), or is associated genealogically (G); this G follows the names of parents or other spouses and witnesses. The numbers at the very end refer to the page and entry number of the original transcription. These are helpful in looking at the individuals identified in a given entry and may also be used for further reference in corresponding with CGS to get a printout of the entry or in using the manuscript found at the Hialeah Family History Library.

SOCIETY NOTES:

In preparation for the conferences that we are attending we have prepared two new products:

LOCALITY GUIDE FOR CUBA

This guide first lists all the towns and cities in Cuba with their municipality and their province. The second list is by municipality with all its towns and cities. The third list is by province, listing all the municipalities in each of them. If you do not know where a town is located, look it up in the guide.

Price: $15.00 plus $2.00 shipping

E-Z CONNECTIONS

This is a system of pedigree charts and family group sheets that are designed to give a unique number to each individual in your genealogy and be able to find his or her descendants and ancestors in seconds. You can use it as working papers while researching and it helps to keep everyone connected and easy to find. You are welcome to make copies of the first set if you need more pages.

The set has 9 pedigree charts and 15 family group sheets, with an instructions sheet.

Price: $5.00 (shipping included).
